solution

One program, two different business models

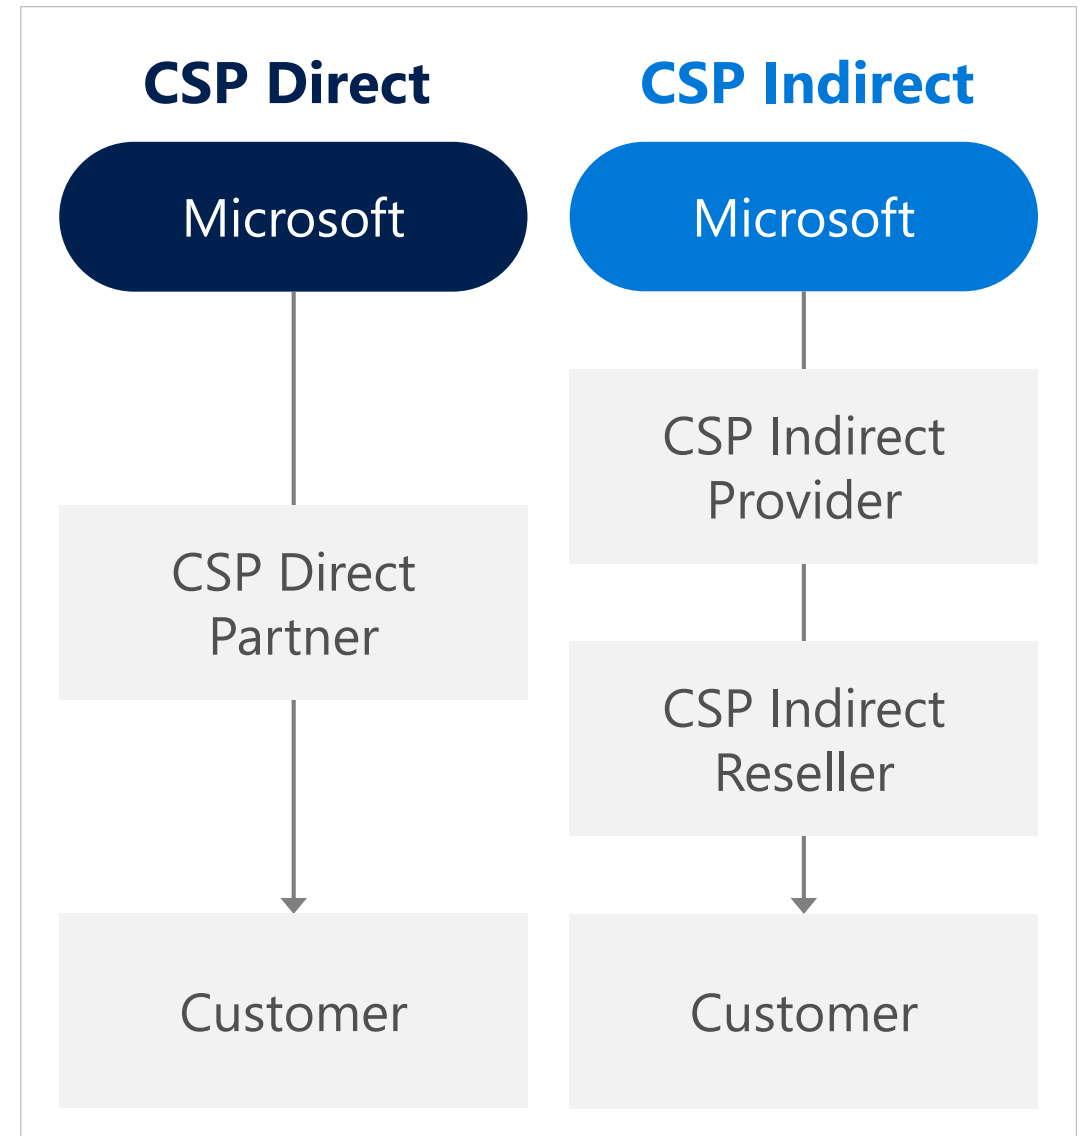

CSP Direct model (1-tier)

- Partner works with Microsoft directly
- Fixed discount for Azure
- Partner needs to provide billing tools and build support practice
- Credit check during the onboarding process

CSP Indirect model (2-tier)

- 2 partner tiers:
 - CSP Indirect Provider (aka Distributor) – transacts to Microsoft, provides billing tools and technical support.
 - CSP Indirect Reseller – sells Azure to customers through CSP Indirect Provider.

Azure CSP Practices

What partners need to build to be successful in Azure CSP

1. Technical support practice

2. Billing practice

3. Deployment services practice

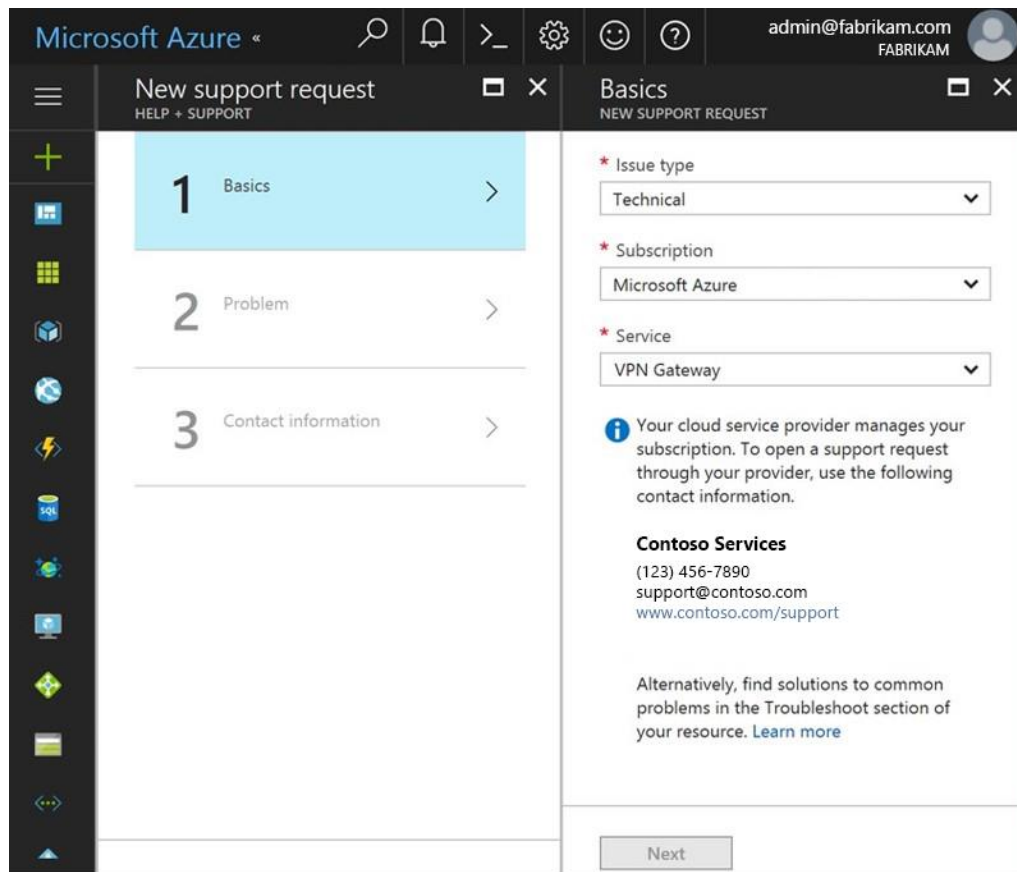

4. Cloud sales practice

CSP Direct partners get discount for Azure to implement it

CSP Indirect Reseller receives it from CSP Indirect Provider (Distributor)

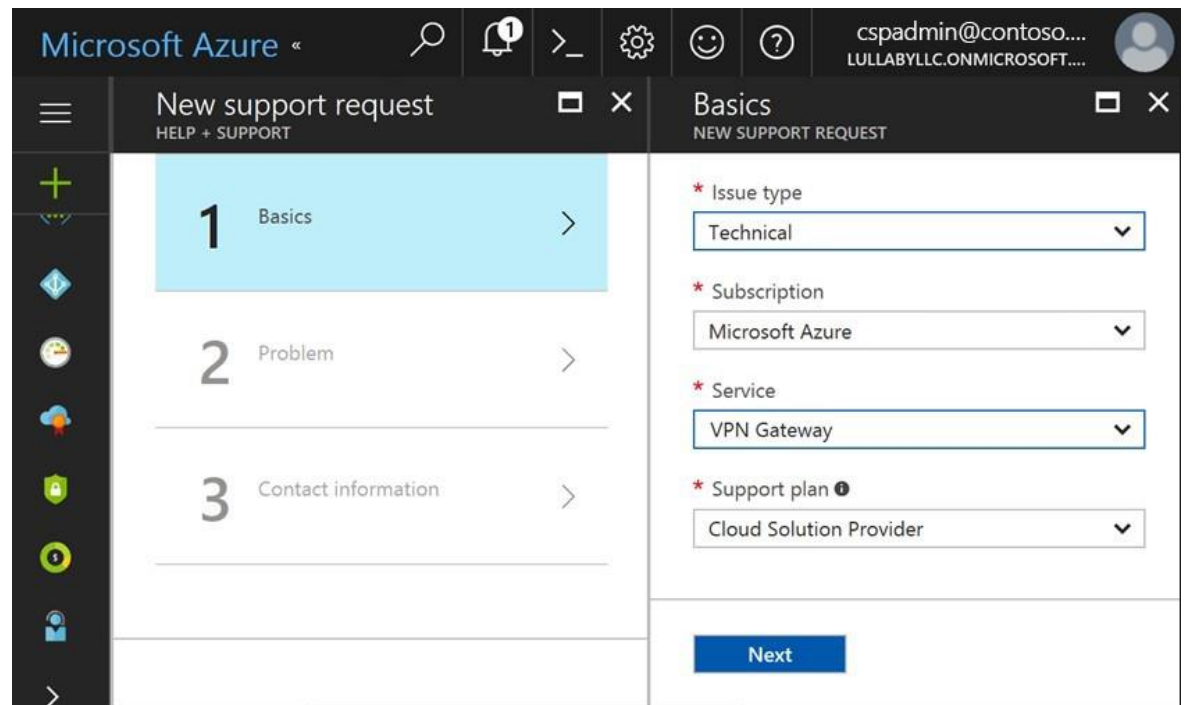

Microsoft doesn't provide any support to CSP Customers.

Customer view

The screenshot shows the 'New support request' form in the Microsoft Azure portal from a customer's perspective. The user is logged in as 'admin@fabrikam.com' from 'FABRIKAM'. The form is titled 'Basics' and includes three steps: 1. Basics, 2. Problem, and 3. Contact information. The 'Basics' step is currently active. It contains dropdown menus for 'Issue type' (set to 'Technical'), 'Subscription' (set to 'Microsoft Azure'), and 'Service' (set to 'VPN Gateway'). Below these, an information icon and text state: 'Your cloud service provider manages your subscription. To open a support request through your provider, use the following contact information.' This is followed by 'Contoso Services' contact details: '(123) 456-7890', 'support@contoso.com', and 'www.contoso.com/support'. A link to 'Learn more' is provided. At the bottom right, there is a 'Next' button.

Technical support for Azure services

Register a new customer request in the own tracking system

1st tier of support:

- Do basic troubleshooting
- Check if there are any related service issues on Azure Resource Health
- Provide solutions to the customer

2nd tier of support:

- If problem is not resolved – escalate the request internally and do deep troubleshooting
- Ensure that the environment is fully supported by Microsoft
- Provide solutions or fix the problem in on behalf the customer

Escalate issues to Microsoft

- Only after steps 1-3 (details)
- Microsoft provides different support options for CSP Partners
- All escalation requests are still managed by the partner.
